SEE AGREEMENT ON DRAFT BILL EARLY IN WEEK

Final Enactment Likely
by Wednesday Says
Measure's Author

Washington, Sept. 9—(AP)—The senate and house will reach a speedy agreement on their conflicting versions of conscription legislation, it was predicted today, and the house provision for a 60-day delay will probably be discarded in the process.

Senator Burke (D-Neb) was confident in saying that congressional action on the history-making peacetime selective service measure would be completed "this week, possibly by Wednesday".

Burke, co-author of the bill with Rep. Wadsworth (R-NY), was joined by Chairman May (D-Ky) of the house military committee in forecasting swift settlement of senate-house differences on the legislation.

The Nebraska senator said the senate-house conference would make several adjustments to reconcile divergent versions of the bill, approved in one form by the senate ten days ago, and in a different form by the house on Saturday night. The changes Burke predicted would:

Predicted Changes
Eliminate the controversial house provision for a 60-day postponement of the draft to permit further trial of voluntary enlistments to raise the initial contingent of 400,000 men wanted by the army.

Approve the house provision calling for registration of an estimated 24,000,000 men between 21 and 44 years inclusive, instead of accepting the narrower senate bracket affecting 12,000,000 men between 21 and 30 years.

Approve the house provision for the commandeering by rental or lease of defense industries with which agreements cannot be reached on army and navy orders. The senate alternative would have the government assume ownership of such industries by condemnation proceedings.

Chairman May and four other house spokesmen were ready to open conferences with a senate delegation expected to be appointed during the day.

SOME TALK OF RECESS

Most senate supporters of the conscription bill expressed favor with the broader house age bracket and the house provision for compelling cooperation of recalcitrant defense industries.

Senator Burke said that use of the 21-44 age bracket would permit a "more selective process and more chance for deferments that should be granted".

"We should get over the idea that only the younger men must do our fighting and training", he declared.

House passage of the conscription bill by a vote of 263 to 149 Saturday set both house and senate leaders talking about adjournment or a recess until after

RESULTS OF STUDY OF STATE DEPARTMENTS TO BE REVEALED ON RADIO

Chicago, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Dwight H. Green, Republican candidate for governor, said today he would present results of a year's survey of major state departments in a series of 40 speeches beginning tonight.

He said a staff of experts on taxation and purchasing costs had been working here and in Springfield, preparing an analysis of taxes, administrative costs and expenditures.

"Cold, hard figures and indisputable facts show that a considerable portion of every dollar has been wasted", he said.

Green planned ten radio talks in the series of campaign speeches. They will be broadcast over station WENR the first at 7 p. m. (C. S. T.) today. After he begins a caravanning swing downstate on Sept. 17 he planned to return to Chicago each Monday for a broadcast.

TERMITE EXTERMINATOR IS PAINFULLY BURNED

Robert Preston sustained painful burns of both hands Saturday while engaged in an experiment in destroying termites, which he had discovered in the basement of the Preston funeral home on Crawford avenue. He had found a mound of the insects in a dark corner of the basement and poured varnish remover on them, then lighted a match to observe the success of his experiment when the varnish remover ignited. In an attempt to stamp out the flames with his foot, a few drops of the burning liquid flew into the can which contained the remover, igniting the contents. There was a flash of the inflammable liquid and in his efforts to avert other articles from becoming ignited, he suffered severe burns to the entire right hand and a portion of the left hand.

Lugano, Switzerland, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Carol of Rumania, the man no longer a king, was reported today to be considering the United States, among other countries, as offering possible asylum when his temporary stay in Switzerland ends.

The dethroned monarch was on the international telephone early, seeking to pave the way for the next leg of his journey in exile. Among the places called was the French capital at Vichy.

His first choice was understood to be one of his villas on the French Riviera, but the Vichy government was said to be uncertain about welcoming him in view of German hostility toward the ex-

INCLUDE ALL VESSELS PROPOSED FOR TWO-OCEAN FLEET

Washington, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Announcing the largest contract letting in its history, the Navy placed orders today for 201 ships to cost a total of $3,861,053,312.

The department acted immediately after President Roosevelt signed at Hyde Park the $5,251,000,000 defense appropriation measure on which Congress completed congressional action Friday. The Army also worked swiftly on contract awards, and Stephen Early, White House press secretary, said at Hyde Park that war department orders totaling $524,000,000 would be completed in a few days.

Along with the ship contracts, the Navy announced that officials were signing contracts calling for the expenditure of an additional $31,653,500 to expand naval establishments.

Officials said also that negotiations for approximately 2,100 naval airplanes, to cost about $108,000,000, was in the final stages.

FOR TWO-OCEAN NAVY

Completion of these negotiations would bring the total amount of money involved in the current series of lettings to $4,000,706,812, they reported.

Almost all of the ships authorized by Congress to give the nation a two-ocean navy were covered in the contracts which went both to navy shipyards and private builders.

The time required to complete them, officials said, will vary from four to five years for battleships to one and one half to two years for submarines. The ships ordered included seven battleships, to cost around $100,000,000 each, eight aircraft carriers to cost around $47,000,000 each, 27 cruisers to cost around $30,000,000 each 115 destroyers costing about $3,100,000, 43 submarines costing around $6,000,000 each and one repair ship cost of which was not disclosed immediately.

CRUSHED UNDER FALLING FALSE FRONT OF STORE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Washington, Sept. 9.—(AP)—John Emory Warner, life long resident of Ogle county, the greater part in Pine Creek township, died at the Katherine Shaw Beetha hospital in Dixon Saturday evening at 8:15 o'clock from internal injuries which he sustained at about 1:30 Saturday afternoon, when he was trapped beneath a section of a false building front on Fourth street in Oregon, which collapsed suddenly. Lee Mon, who lives about three miles north of Grand Detour narrowly escaped being crushed under the weight of the false front which missed him by inches.

The building was being wrecked by Contractor George S. Bull of Oregon to be replaced by a modern motion picture theater. Several carpenters were engaged in razing the structure at the time, but were working at other parts of the old store.

RAF LASHES BACK

British R. A. F. bombers lashed off London's first alarm of the day late this afternoon, breaking a 12-hour lull after a night of horror had lifted the capital's two-day toll to an estimated 600 killed and 2,600 seriously wounded.

Silent since dawn—when the Germans finally ended a nine hour and 40-minute assault—London's air-raid sirens began shrieking again at 5:09 p. m. (10:09 a. m. C. S. T.) just as London's millions began streaming home from their offices.

Heavy bomb explosions, rising daily above the clatter of anti-aircraft fire, echoed in the streets of London as a squadron of Nazi raiders wheeled 15,000 feet above the capital.

The pressure of the unprecedented Nazi bombardment of London during the week-end has been terrific, especially last night. With out a question a dangerous strain is being thrown upon the defense, but thus far it hasn't cracked under the weight of the onslaught which Hitler had conserving for his quick kill of England.

Miss Stouffer and Kenneth Allison Are Wed at Polo

Nearly 200 relatives and friends, including about 30 Dixon friends, assembled at the Evangelical Lutheran church in Polo yesterday afternoon to attend a simple wedding ceremony in which Miss Lucille Stouffer, only daughter of the Howard C. Stouffers, became the bride of Kenneth Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Allison of Milledgeville. The Rev. Carl D. Kammerer heard the vows at 4 o'clock.

Palms, pink gladioli, and candelabra containing white tapers decorated the church. White bows marked the pews.

The guests took their places during a half-hour nuptial prelude played by Mrs. Frank Hammer. Robert Stouffer, the bride's brother, sang a solo, "I Love You Truly," followed by a second solo, "Because," sung by Mrs. Myrtle Bishop of Dixon. The "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" was the signal for the entrance of the bridal party, and the recessional was the Mendelssohn wedding march.

The bride's white satin gown was designed with a train. Her knee-length veil fell from a pearl-trimmed halo.

Mrs. Clark Smith of Mt. Morris, as matron of honor, was wearing French blue chiffon and lace. She carried pink roses and pink and lavender asters, with a wreath of matching flowers in her hair.

Mr. Smith served Mr. Allison as best man. Ushers included Joseph Allison of Sterling, the bridegroom's brother; Sam Shapiro and Randall Warfel of Dixon. Their boutonnieres were white roses.

Mrs. Stouffer chose a dress of dusty rose lace for her daughter's wedding. Her shoulder corsage contained pink chrysanthemums and asters. Mrs. Allison wore royal blue lace, with a corsage of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

About 75 guests were entertained at a reception in the church parlors, following the ceremony. Baskets of white gladioli combined with baby's breath decorated the room. Pink and white bouquets trimmed the refreshment table, where Miss Helen Slick of Dixon poured, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Allison, Mrs. Edward Hilliker of Dixon, Ada Williams and Mary Williams. Pink and white icing decorated the tiered wedding cake.

After the reception, Mr. Allison and his bride left on a brief wedding trip. When they return, they will be at home on the Allison farm, near Milledgeville.

Mrs. Allison was graduated from Milledgeville high school and Katherine Shaw Bethea hospital training school for nurses, and after her graduation, served on the hospital staff for two and a half years. For the past two years, she has been acting as assistant to Dr. H. M. Edwards.

Mr. Allison is also a graduate of Milledgeville high school. He has been engaged in farming for some time.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lewis, Des Plaines; Mrs. T. Wagner and daughter Mae, Chicago; Mrs. Mattie Scheeter, Oregon; The Rev. Father R. C. Troy celebrated the nuptial mass, served by Charles Meade and Robert Dicker.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Peterson and family, Princeton; Mr. and Mrs. Wise and family, Sterling.

Among those present from Dixon were Mrs. Allison's Beta Sigma Phi sorority sisters, a number of nurses, and Dr. and Mrs. Howard M. Edwards and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Thomas, Mrs. Myrtle George, Miss Dorothy Hurst, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rosecrans and Mr. and Mrs. Randall Warfel.

HOW TO GET A $100 LOAN WITHOUT ENDORSERS

You can borrow $100 if you can pay back $6.43 a month.

YOU can get a personal loan—without endorsers or guarantors—if you can repay in small monthly installments. You may borrow $20 to $300. And you needn't even leave your own home to apply for the amount you require. Just send the coupon below or a letter for complete information without obligation.

Payments to fit your purse

You may choose the most convenient repayment plan from the table below. Suppose that you need $100 and could readily repay $9.77 a month. Your installments will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.43 a month for twenty months will also repay a $100 loan.

See the sample loans and payment plans in the table. Loans also made in other amounts and for other periods. Payments in the table repay everything. They include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $150, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $150. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law. Note that the sooner you repay, the less your loan costs.

Simple to borrow

All you do to apply for a Household Finance loan is to acquaint us with your problem. We require no salary or wage assignment, no stocks or bonds. Loans are made on furniture, car or note. No credit inquiries made of friends or relatives. And you don't have to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. You get your loan quickly and simply.

Send the coupon now for free booklet containing full information. No obligation to borrow!

WE GUARANTEE the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payment includes interest. Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $150. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they accuse to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

The Cost of an Army

Building up an army is expensive. Maintaining it is expensive. It is at best a necessary burden.

But there is one thing worse than maintaining a great army of your own. It is maintaining someone else's army.

France knows. It is estimated that France is now paying $2,500,000 a day to maintain the German army that occupies three-fifths of their country. That will continue as long as the war lasts. If Germany wins, it will continue as long afterward as Germany pleases.

If anybody is worried about the cost of building American defense, let them remember that there is one thing worse—supporting somebody else's army.

Investigation Needed

Congress should investigate the tendency of relief administrators to increase the number of men on relief rolls, possibly by coincidence, around election day.

The suspicion that the New Deal would permit its agents to pad the relief rolls near election time, so as to buy votes, should not be permitted to gain a foothold. Honest people who disagree with the powers that be should not be compelled to think they are fighting against their own tax money.

We know that neither Hopkins nor Roosevelt can be held responsible for the acts of every dimwit politician who would buy votes with federal money, for they are honorable men.

That is why there should be a congressional investigation. Not to convict some one, but to clear those who otherwise might be suspected.

There should be a steady diminution of relief rolls. Increased employment makes that possible, if we are being told the truth.

Boston Uses What It Has

There is a hopeful note in the decision of Boston school authorities to place its machine-shop facilities at South Boston high school on a 24-hour-a-day basis.

Including the new midnight shift, Boston is now turning 525 navy apprentices, WPA enrollees and state employment service recruits into skilled mechanics. Some of the instructors work an eight-hour shift at the Watertown arsenal, then teach eight hours in the mechanics' school.

Boston has not waited for the building of new shops, the creation of new facilities, the enlargement of elaborate plans. It has taken what it had, and gone to work. Federal inspectors say Boston leads the entire country in efforts to train skilled workers. It does it by taking what it has, and going to work.

Washington, Sept. 5—Concealment of the inside negotiations leading up to Roosevelt's destroyers-for-bases trade with Britain roused some personal speculation even near the top of the state department as to how the deal was worked up, and why it was so peculiarly timed.

If you feel left out, you are in good company. Even the British foreign office is in the same position.

The deal was consummated in a long distance telephone call between Roosevelt and Winston Churchill, the British prime minister.

Final negotiations were completed four days before Roosevelt made the announcement.

At that time, details were completed by Lord Lothian, the British ambassador here, in a meeting with State Secretary Hull.

So secret were the plans that few below Hull realized what was afoot, and no one was in on the British side of the deal except Churchill and Lothian.

Why Roosevelt held the announcement four days is not yet quite clear. He has shrugged off the question by saying the British wanted the delay for some routine reason.

Ampier explanation and this is only a personal surmise—is that he set the alarm to climax a sequence of events designed to take the American public mind off Willkie's annoying daily criticism of domestic happenings from Rushville.

The idea of attempting voluntary enlistment for 60 days before putting the draft into effect was almost a prima facie political escape. No one (and this includes the author of the amendment, Rep. Fish, in his franker moments) believed the needed men could be obtained by enlistment.

The delay will simply permit a congressman to meet outraged fathers and mothers back home with the answer that he tried thus to save their son from the draft.

The subterfuge was strictly non-partisan. Although advocated in the house by a quasi-Republican, it was first fostered in the senate by a Democratic new dealer.

The Dixon Knacks won their second straight championship of the Illinois State Baseball league by defeating Shabbona, 16 to 4, yesterday afternoon, but the victory was as dull and unexciting as the score. There are still a few postponed league games to be played, but as far as Dixon is concerned, the league is finished and the heydays are ended.

In the game yesterday at Shabbona the Knacks needed only seven innings before the smothering hosts cried "Uncle!" After a big fourth inning which netted the locals seven runs, there wasn't much doubt about just which way the wind was blowing. Up until then, however, it had been a fairly normal game with a score of 4 to 2 in favor of Dixon going into the fat fourth.

Howe Is Winning Pitcher
Credit for the victory went to Bob Howe of the Knacks who allowed 10 hits, struck out 10 and walked none. The Shabbona hosts used a trio of hurlers on the mound, starting with D. George who was replaced by Wright and ending with R. Chaland. The Knacks rapped the three twirlers for a total of 17 hits.

The Knacks began the game with four runs on a double by Zera, sacrifice by Windmiller and singles by Shires, Miller and Slain. In the last of the ninth, the James Billiards boys scored one more run when Carlson doubled, went to third on a passed ball and stole home.

In the preliminary game last night the Kellers team defeated Bordens, 5 to 1. Weige and Nicklaus composed the winning battery and Max and Lyle Forham worked on the mound with Brindell behind the plate for the milkmen.

Farmer Admits

for Halverson was ordered after he had learned from Sheriff Ira Syek at Austin, Minn., that Halverson had left his home Saturday and had told his mother he was going to Illinois.

Mrs. Herrin, Sheriff Damisch said, married Herrin last July after refusing a reconciliation with Halverson. She said he did not learn of her marriage to Herrin, 44, until recently when she and her husband and the two Halverson children, Laurald and Charles, 7, visited her family near the Halverson farm.

Police said Halverson told them that he had been morose because of his former wife's re-marriage.

"I couldn't eat or sleep," they quoted him, "so I took my 22-calibre rifle, drove to West Dundee, stuck the gun through Ellen's bedroom window and shot her."

Her husband was there and tried to take the gun from me, and in the scuffle I must have shot the boy. I didn't intend to shoot him. I'm sorry about it now. That's no way to settle things."

Halverson was picked up when a woman here saw him walking around with blood on his coat, and called the police. The authorities said Halverson told them he had intended to surrender tomorrow.

Lyons Pinch Hits For Man Who Beat Him in Primaries

Chicago, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Richard J. Lyons, unsuccessful candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, prepared today for a downstate speaking tour this week in behalf of Dwight H. Green, the party's candidate for governor.

Lyons volunteered to substitute for Green after the latter had decided to remain here to complete arrangements for the scheduled visit to Chicago and Illinois Friday and Saturday of Wendell Willkie, Republican presidential candidate.

Two Republican caravans will tour scores of cities during the week. Tomorrow Stephen A. Day and Warren Wright, candidates for congressman-at-large and state treasurer, respectively, will attend meetings at Olney, Newton, Robinson and Lawrenceville. Lyons will join them Tuesday night at meetings at Fairfield and Mt. Vernon.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—(AP)—An investigation of the "power" that political protection gives to racketeers and labor thugs", says Dwight H. Green, would disclose that "these same muscle men of votes are the strong right arm of the machine which runs riot on election day and steals and destroys the ballots".

Green, Republican nominee for governor, made this charge yesterday in commenting on a deathbed statement of Mathew Taylor, founder and president of the Chicago Elevator Operators' Union, who alleged that a "mob" had gained control of his union.

"Taylor's deathbed statement reveals only the gangster control of labor," Green said in his statement, "but I challenge those responsible for enforcing our laws to push an investigation into activities of those high-powered racketeers until they force the revelation of who it is that stands back of these extortionists and killers and protects them in return for their political support."

"Isn't this the time to look into the power that political protection gives to racketeers and labor thugs? If they follow this investigation through, they will find that these same extortions and muscle men of votes are the strong right arm of the machine which runs riot on election days and steals and destroys the ballots."

Bowen's Attorneys Prepare Arguments For Court Reversal

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Attorneys for State Welfare Director A. L. Bowen prepared arguments today to support an appeal to the Illinois supreme court asking reversal of a Kankakee county circuit court order of removal from office as a result of the typhoid epidemic that claimed 60 lives at Manteno state hospital.

The appeal, filed late last week asserted that evidence was "wholly insufficient to establish guilt." Bowen was convicted by Judge James V. Bartley of gross omission of duty and ordered removed from office and fined $1,000.

Bowen's attorneys have until next Wednesday to file briefs to be submitted to the court Oct. 11. Court attaches said a decision probably would not be handed down before December.

Under a writ of supersedeas, Bowen is free to continue as public welfare director until the case is decided. He posted $2,000 bond.

Zuppie Speaks Opinion Concerning 'Glory Boys'

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Bob Zuppie doesn't like the type of football player who turns out "just to make the squad".

Zuppie will start his 28th season as University of Illinois coach tomorrow.

"It's no sin if you can't play football", he spluttered, "but if you can't, please don't come out for it!"

In the past few years we've had too many 'glory' boys out for football. They come out to the stadium so they can say they're out for football and then stand around and pray there won't be any scrimage.

"Real football players like to scrimmage. Those are the kind we want."

Predicts Nazis Cannot Woo Cuba Away From States

Chicago, Sept. 9.—(AP)—A young Cuban entertainer, who helped to make the Chicago opening of "Too Many Girls" one of the liveliest first nights the midwest theatre has seen in recent years, said his knowledge of his people convinced him that reported Nazi-fascist attempts to wean Cuba away from the United States would fail.

The son of a former mayor of Santiago and a spectator of revolution, Desi Arnaz had an early acquaintance with political vicissitudes. He was only 16 years old when revolt broke out on the island in 1933, compelling his family to live in exile in Florida.

Some years after the young man returned to Cuba for a season before taking up permanent residence in the United States with the intention of becoming a citizen.

"Cuba fought too long and too hard for freedom to permit any sacrifice of it to European powers", Arnaz asserted. "In all Latin America there can be found no greater devotion to the democratic idea than prevails in Cuba. Cuba was the first to ratify the Pan-American pact; it will be the first to resist the blandishments or threats of the dictators."

Has Many Reasons

Arnaz has more than academic reasons for his appreciation and understanding of the processes of democracy.

The revolution of 1933 violently interrupted his formal schooling. Landing in Miami, a strange city in a strange land, young Arnaz was in urgent need of employment. Fortunately for him, a Cuban orchestra was playing at one of the hotels, and he was hired to sing and to play a guitar for $5 a night.

He was greatly on the go in those years from 1934 to 1939, traveling from Florida to Cuba and back, then to New York and southward again, and finally winding up in New York, where earlier he had struggled through several months without a job. For all his activity and his numerous setbacks, he contrived to finish his high school education.

Led Own Rhumba

Desi Arnaz led his own rhumba band in Florida and was a featured vocalist with Xavier Cugat's orchestra, but it was not until he was spotted leading a Cuban orchestra at a New York night club that he had his first major break.

Producer George Abbott and Lorenz Hart, of the song-composing team of Rodgers & Hart, were impressed by Arnaz' natural talents and ebullient temperament, and signed him for a part in "Too Many Girls".

When a Hollywood studio made a film version of the musical comedy Arnaz projected his stage role onto the screen.

Other good parts, east and west and on the road, probably await him after the completion of the current tour. Friends tell him that he's hit the jackpot at least. He doubts it, but says "I've had a lot to be thankful for in the past year".

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 8.

The Golden Text was, "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God; and if children, then heirs; of God, and joint-heirs with Christ" (Romans 8:16, 17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord" (II Corinthians 3:18).

We have the power of thought and action and decision. We must use these powers now and use them without stint of measure. We must make freedom as living a thing to us as it was to the men who founded this republic and their descendants. We must have union. For the issue is not the horror of war or the blessing of peace. The issue is not a third term for Mr. Roosevelt, or a first term for Mr. Willkie. The issue is whether we mean to stay a free people and hand that freedom on.

Our liberties we prize and our rights we will maintain. Those are simple words but they mean business. It is time we said them again.

Carl Carmer tells why Old Bill Doak, like Jonathan Harrington, is one of his American heroes, in the next article of this series on "Our Country."

Our greatest glory is not in never failing but in rising every time we fall.—Confucius.

GAR Encampment Opens Sunday to Theme of Loyalty

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Its 74th national encampment launched on the theme of loyalty to the Constitution and Flag of the United States "as long as life shall last", the Grand Army of the Republic today got down to committee meetings and preparation for its big day, next Wednesday.

Mr. Herbert Barak, staff physician, who attended the patient, testified that Staab was in severe shock when he arrived at the hospital ward. Examination of the body, the physician continued, revealed second degree burns on the feet and lower part of the legs with first degree extending to the buttocks and lower abdomen.

Three nurses, Florence Wilkowsky, Irene Aldrich, Clara Manger, and Dr. B. D. Hart testified briefly concerning the hospitalization.

A. T. Anderson, 94-year-old Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R., paid reverent homage to "our comrades who have crossed the mystic river", and charged living Americans to "stand by the Constitution and our Flag as long as life shall last".

Asking "what would this city have been tonight if the boys of '61 had not faced the guns of those who would dismember the Union?", Commander Anderson said their work was "well done".

"Woe be to the man or group of men who would scrap the Constitution and our Flag as long as life shall last".

Praised By Speaker

The G. A. R. head paid tribute to the late Commander-in-Chief, John E. Andrews of Quincy, Ill., who died last June 30 and credited him with planning of this encampment "near the home of Lincoln".

The Rev. Myron L. Pontius of Jacksonville, Ill., guest speaker of the program, praised the G. A. R. veterans for their ideals of "sacrifice, patriotism and peace", and said their efforts in the Civil war had resulted in "75 years of domestic peace—a record unequalled by any country in the history of the world".

Here by a special act of congress the United States Marine Band, under the direction of Capt. William F. Santelmann, played a recital at last night's memorial service.

To the jury in its verdict attributed the death to shock resulting from burns which were accidentally sustained.

A MAGNIFICENT GESTURE

John Bull, his back to the wall and his eyes anxiously on the skies from which Hitler's fighting ships are raining death and destruction, makes a magnificent gesture. In the face of this odds-against-him attack—the most bitter the world has known—he sends his own planes to attack in Germany and Italy. We can not recall a more striking example of flaming courage.

To be sure, it may turn out to be the best of good strategy, too, by making it difficult for Hitler and Mussolini to explain to their peoples why, with the air-control they are claiming, they can not prevent raids by gasping Britain, but to the world at large the maneuvers will appear as a gesture of defiance, as pure bravery and daring.

Patient in Convulsion

"The patient was in a convulsion when I first saw him", Wyer said, "and I reached in the tub picked him up and lifted him out on the floor. He was in a sitting position in the tub and there were about five or six inches of water in the tub. His clothes had been removed and were on the floor".

In answer to questions, Wyer stated that his forearm, which were immersed in the water to the elbow had not been burned, but that after placing Staab's body on the floor, he observed the skin peeling from the feet. He informed Gladys Britt, another attendant on the ward, who summoned a staff physician and the patient was removed to the hospital ward.

Wyer stated that at about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon he recovered a common wooden spool from Ernest Lee, colored patient on the ward who was entrusted with the care of untidy patients. The spool, the attendant said, appeared to be the best of good strategy, too, by making it difficult for Hitler and Mussolini to explain to their peoples why, with the air-control they are claiming, they can not prevent raids by gasping Britain, but to the world at large the maneuvers will appear as a gesture of defiance, as pure bravery and daring.

And—so the friends of the British will hope—it may also mean that the aerial odds against John Bull are not so great as they had been led to believe. That is about the only ray of light in a dark day, for, if the British can achieve even a stalemate in the sky, there will be no successful invasion of England.

KENTUCKIANS' REUNION

Monticello, Ill.—(AP)—Mountain music in the best tradition entertained several thousand Kentucky-born residents of Illinois who attended their 16th annual reunion yesterday. Thomas Lykins of Springfield was re-elected president; Irwin Duve, Monticello, vice president, and Dr. W. M. Sievers of White Heath, secretary-treasurer.

Wyer stated that at about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon he recovered a common wooden spool from Ernest Lee, colored patient on the ward who was entrusted with the care of untidy patients. The spool, the attendant said, appeared to be the best of good strategy, too, by making it difficult for Hitler and Mussolini to explain to their peoples why, with the air-control they are claiming, they can not prevent raids by gasping Britain, but to the world at large the maneuvers will appear as a gesture of defiance, as pure bravery and daring.

If you wish an Illinois road map of 1940, issued by the secretary of state—you will find a supply at The Evening Telegraph.

Police Disperse Anti-Conscription Demonstrators

(NEA Telephoto.)
Police break up crowd at east entrance to Capitol building in Washington, as demonstrators sought to hold a "prayer service" against pending conscription bill.

English Children Seek Homes in New World

(NEA Telephoto.)
Wearing tags addressed to "U. S. Committee for Care of European Children," a group of 136 British refugee children who arrived in New York aboard the "Samaria," cluster about Chairman Marshall Field. These are first arrivals who have not had specific homes pre-arranged.

It Runs in the Family

Col. Joseph Stehlin, left, joined the Lafayette Escadrille during the World War, so when his son, Charles, of Miami Beach, Fla., wanted to join the French Air Corps in this war, the Colonel couldn't say "No." Charles, 18, was turned down as a flier, but became youngest ambulance driver for the American Field Service. Pictured on his recent arrival in New York, he is displaying Croix de Guerre he won.

Gasoline Is Scarce in Paris

With motor traffic sharply restricted by German orders, such vehicles as this cycle-cart are pressed into service in Paris today. In background of photo is Paris branch of the Credit Lyonnais, one of France's largest banking institutions, closed and shuttered.

"Show Me the Way to Go Home" . . . France, 1940

Picture, if you can, a part of the world where you must have a sheaf of identification papers to be allowed to return to your own home. If you can't imagine that, see photo above. Here at demarcation point between free and Nazi-occupied portions of France, refugees show their papers to steel-helmeted soldiers of Hitler's army of occupation before they can go back to their land, taking their few possessions in cart or wheelbarrow.

Air Raid Over London Empties Perambulators

Willkie Meets State Leaders

(NEA Telephoto.)
At luncheon in Rushville, Ind., for 22 state leaders, Republican Presidential Candidate Wendell Willkie confers with group attending the meet. Left to right: S. F. Pryor, Connecticut; Gov. Harold E. Stassen, Minnesota; Willkie; Mrs. Katherine T. Brown, Ohio; Edwin F. Jaekle, New York; John D. M. Hamilton, executive director.

Midnight on the English Channel

(NEA Telephoto.)
Sky and water are illuminated by flashes from bombs and shells as British royal air force bombers batter at Nazi occupied channel ports dimly seen in the distance, marked by streamers of "flaming onions" shooting into sky from anti-aircraft guns, and light dots that mark fires.

Do Arlene's Eyes Smile Love?

Did actress Arlene Judge's starry eyes and love-ly smile tell a secret as she recently dined in New York with G. Huntington Hartford, 2nd heir to national grocery chain fortune? Friends say couple will wed "have even set the date—October 18. Miss Judge has been married twice previously."

"Music Hath Charms . . ."

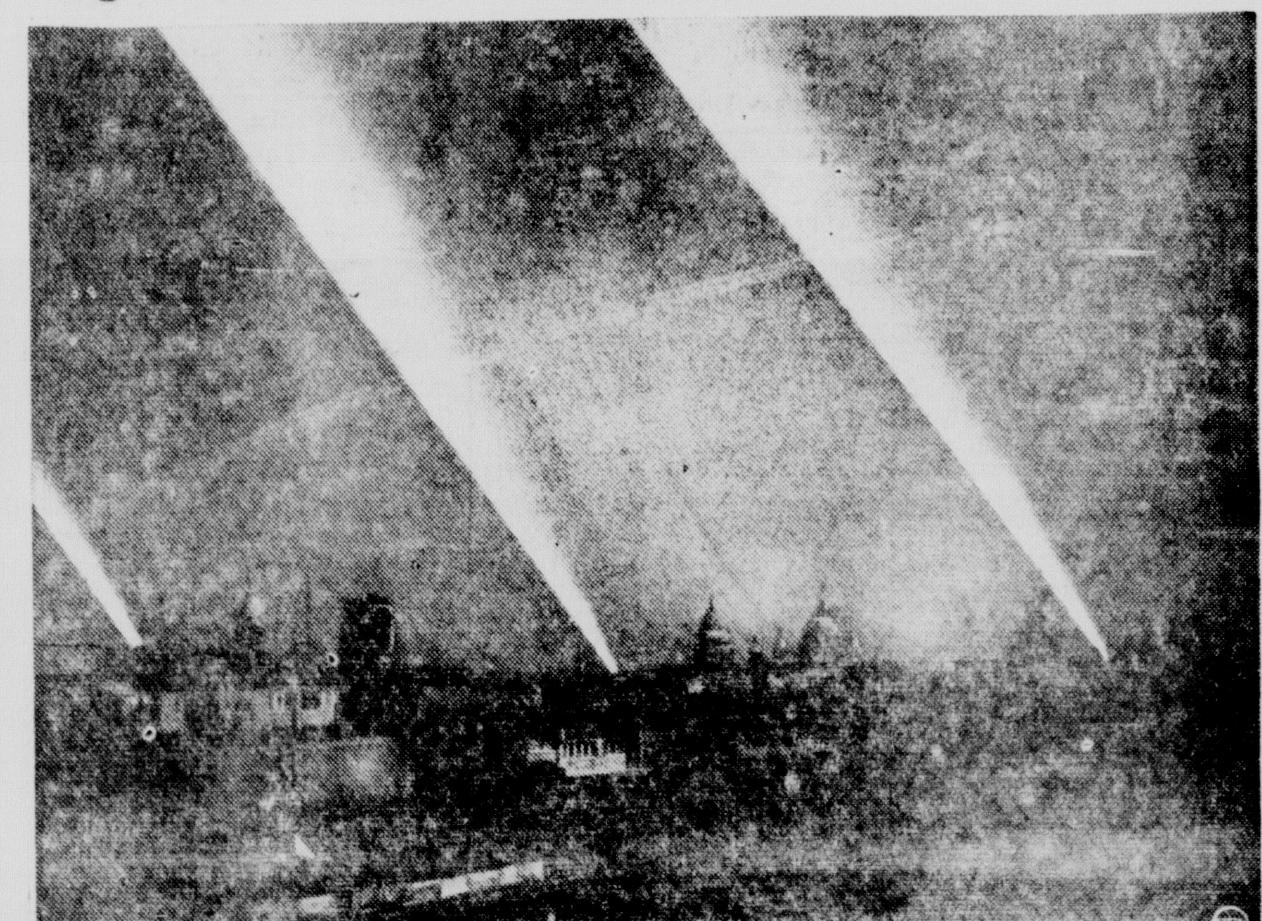

"Music hath charms to sooth the savage beast" seemed proved again when the dulcet strains of Beethoven and Bach lured Bossy from her pasture. SHE'S listening to one of the Summer Music Festival concerts at Rockport, Me., and incidentally demonstrating why the summer country theatre is sometimes called the cow-carn circuit.

Triple Winner in Primary

(NEA Telephoto.)
Senator Hiram Johnson of California congratulated by Democratic Senator Wheeler (left) and Republican Senator Austin after the isolationist won senatorial renomination on Democratic, Republican, and Progressive tickets despite New Deal opposition.

Lights Out in Berlin

Blackout restrictions are tightened in Berlin, and anti-aircraft searchlights tear strips of brilliance in the nighttime sky since vengeful British bombers put Germany's capital inside the war's ever-widening "front." Here's how blacked-out Berlin looks to enemy planes.
